

PRESIDENT WILSON SLIGHTLY BETTER

CLEMENCEAU ASKS WORLD PACT SESSION

PARIS CHIEF FOR LEAGUE MEET SOON

Urges Session to be Held in Washington Next Month.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
PARIS, Oct. 4.—Premier Clemenceau has written Colonel E. M. House, a member of the American peace delegation urging that a meeting of the League of Nations be held in Washington under the chairmanship of President Wilson early in November. The premier's letter, which outlines his reasons for the calling of such a meeting was officially published today. It was written September fourth, 1919 and follows:

"My dear friend,
I hope you to have the pleasure of seeing you in Paris before your return to America, but our friend, Captain André Tardieu says that this is not certain and therefore it seems well to communicate to you reflections suggested by decisions to be taken concerning the society of Nations.

In the first place it seems to me that the first meeting of the society in Washington under the presidency of President Wilson should be gently called at the earliest possible moment. Owing to the hopes the society has caused to be born and to facilitate the solution of international problems, I would suggest the meeting being held the first week of the coming November and would propose the invitation of the great possible number of statesmen whose names were associated with the creation of the Society of Nations. Undoubtedly there should be only a small amount of current in me, to travel, but the program would have this capital advantage.

It would put in action the society which still exists only on paper. I firmly don't you think a meeting would be a great advantage for the society of Nations to be enabled to exchange views on the general direction of the line to be pursued. No more is better qualified than President Wilson to remind the people at the opening of the society of the fact that the society of Nations will have practice and influence in time of peace and if it succeeds in maintaining and developing the feeling of international solidarity from which we have born during the war at the call of Mr. Wilson, I myself feel I hope to see and him in this task.

(Signed)
"C. G. Clemenceau"
"S. I. have written a similar letter to Premier Lloyd-George."

Seen In the Shops

Fashion is still favoring the plume blouse and although the shops are showing a number of the regulation variety, the prettiest materials and the prettiest designs and the prettiest embroidery seem to have been saved for the blouses which fall below the waistline.

One of the loveliest of these waists is distinctive because of its color and cut rather than for its decoration. It is of Milano red georgette, a shade that is vastly becoming to the new suits in the prevalent color. The blouse hangs straight, caught at the waist line with a narrow belt of the material. At the bottom and around the edge of the wide sleeves are cuffs which are outlined with a plaited fall of the georgette. The round neck is also edged with this fall which extends for a few inches down the side-front and is accompanied by a trimming of pearl buttons.

A deep georgette model is a mass of embroidery in fine braided gold thread, heavy black embroidery silk and a wisp of silver thread. The sleeves are cut in almost style and are fitted in a tiny bit with a strip of blue and gold embroidery. Piping of gray on the round neck and for a few inches on the graceful slit down the front trim another plume blouse of blue georgette. This suit down the front trim another plume blouse of blue georgette. This suit is caught together with covered grey georgette buttons. The blouse is held in at the waistline with a heavy cord of gray and the bottom of the blouse and of the blouse itself has an embroidered design in a square conventional pattern and made up from an irregular geometric.

SOUSA BAND PRICE HAS BEEN REDUCED

All $2 Seats on Lower Floor Have Been Cut Down to $1.50

Through arrangements completed with the manager Saturday local manager Frank L. Harman who is directing the arrangements for the Sousa Band concert Tuesday, the price of all lower floor seats has been reduced to $1.50.

The cut in the balcony seats so rapidly that Mr. Harman felt that there should be more accommodations for the people in the balcony. The reduction in price was made.

Every seat in the balcony was quickly sold and there are not a great number of seats left on the first floor and Memorial Hall will be crowded to the doors when the bandmaster makes his bow.

Sousa's present tour has been a triumph after another and it is said that the bandmaster never had as good an aggregation as he now directs.

BLACK ZONE QUIETS DOWN AS PROBE OF AGITATION IS STARTED BY COMMITTEE

ELAIN, Ark., Oct. 4.—This little town breathed easier today than at any time since early in the week when race disturbances of a serious nature began without warning. The relieved feeling was due largely to the fact that all reports from districts where federal soldiers and civilian officers were on duty continued to be of a reassuring nature. Generally, the people here believed the worst of the trouble was over.

However, officials were emphatic in their assertions that there would be no relaxation or emergency measures, and there was no indication that the 500 soldiers sent here from Camp Pike would be withdrawn soon.

The authorities expected to obtain additional information regarding the alleged banding of negroes in this locality through further questioning today of Ed Hicks, said to have been one of the ring leaders of the negro organization known as the "Progressive Farmers" and "Household Union of America." Hicks who was arrested yesterday, said to have admitted he was president of the organization. Other negroes in custody are said to have declared that Ed Baker, another negro under arrest, was secretary.

Through this organization officials say the negroes in this locality were banded together for an uprising.

Among the papers brought in by Hicks is a printed copy of what purports to be "The United States Constitution and its laws of the Progressive Farmers and Household Union of America, the Negro Business League."

Fifteen Captured
11111 ROCK, ARK. Oct. 4—

Fifteen negroes were captured when in a fight near Elaine, Ark., between whites and negroes late Friday afternoon. It is believed that virtually all the leaders of the negroes have been captured. Several negroes were wounded and one soldier was wounded slightly.

MICKEY WANTS A GERMAN HELMET

"Mickey," featuring Mable Normand, to be shown at the Regent theatre, next week is filled with unexpected situations not called for in the scenario, and although this spontaneity brings many a brilliant flash into the picture, still Mable Normand admits that the life of a comedienne is not at all glib and simple.

One day when Mable was called upon to dust a chair, during one of the scenes for "Mickey," she tripped over a rug, took a header, landed up against one of those old-fashioned nine-foot high hall clocks and tipped it over. Mable had just time to brace herself and throw her hands over her head when the clock came down on her. For several seconds she struggled and then Bill Cloven, butler in the scene came to her rescue. The camera man realizing that the stuff, though not called for in the scenario, had added to the great number of humorous situations in "Mickey."

But sometimes they don't film the unexpected. Mable Normand as "Mickey" was to fall through a roof in which to be effective she must land on her feet. Mable found it easy enough to fall but landing head up was another matter.

ROYALTY'S TOUR CHANGE DUE TO ILL PRESIDENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Visits to places of interest occupied the time today of King Albert, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold of Belgium.

The royal party will depart for Boston tonight, arriving there tomorrow morning.

While King Albert and the prince visited the Woolworth building, the world's tallest structure; the stock exchange and the produce exchange, Queen Elizabeth arranged to visit the Rockefeller Institute and several of the city's hospitals in company with Mrs. John F. Hyland, wife of the city's mayor. At noon King Albert and Prince Leopold were guests of the committee for relief in Belgium at the Bankers' club.

This afternoon the royal family will hold a reception in the public library for representatives of the various organizations that engaged in war work. Both the king and the queen are expected to speak after the reception.

The Belgian rulers will attend the meeting of the American Legion tonight at Madison Square Garden, arriving there at about 10 o'clock. The king will address the Legion members after which the royal party will go directly to the Waldorf and thence to the state department special train for the journey to Boston.

Boston and Buffalo will be the only cities in the east other than New York to be visited by the king and his party.

Because of the illness of President Wilson, King Albert, of Belgium, has decided to cancel all his engagements in connection with his tour of the United States after those in Boston and Buffalo, up to October 14. From Buffalo the royal visitor will go to a point in California and will remain there until he is scheduled to visit San Francisco on October 14. His schedule after that date stands tentatively.

The announcement of the change in the plans was made at 7 o'clock last night by Breckinridge Long, third assistant secretary of state, who has charge of the Belgians' tour of the country.

"Because of the president's condition," said the statement by Mr. Long, "His Majesty has seen fit to cancel all of the engagements planned for him up to at least October 14 when he would have been, and still expects to be in San Francisco. The only exceptions relate to Boston and Buffalo, where he is due Sunday and Monday, respectively.

The proximity of these engagements is such that his majesty feels he can keep them, provided the condition of the president does not become worse, rather than disappoint.

From Buffalo His Majesty will proceed directly and immediately to a place in California, which will be announced later.

"His Majesty has expressed his earnest desire to proceed to Washington to pay a visit of courtesy and respect to President Wilson and has said he would have so proceeded, if he could have remained only five minutes if he had not been advised by the president's physician that he would not permit him to see Mr. Wilson."

FOR MEN WHO WORK HARD.
Men who work at hard physical labor are subject to kidney trouble. J. G. Wolf, 724 S. Jackson St., Green Bay, Wis., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills relieved me of a severe back ache that bothered me for several months. A few bottles fixed me up in good shape." They also relieve bladder and urinary ailments. H. P. Vortkamp.

PASTOR'S LIFE THREATENED
SHARON, Penn., Oct. 4.—"If you don't keep your mouth shut and quit preaching against Bolshevism your two children will be killed and you will be shot." This threat was contained in an anonymous letter received by Rev. T. M. Brown, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, of Farrell. He turned the letter over to the police and the postal authorities are endeavoring to apprehend the writer.

LIMA PROOF.
Should Convince Every Lima Reader.

The frank statement of a neighbor telling the merits of a remedy, bids you pause and believe the same endorsement.

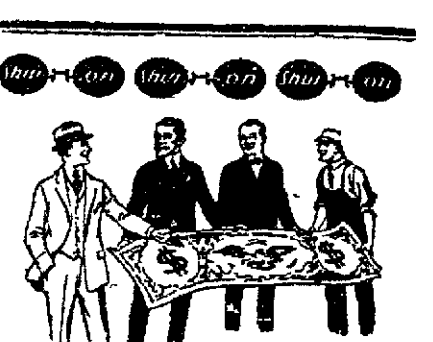

By some stranger far away Commands no belief at all. Here's a Lima case. A Lima citizen testifies. Read and be convinced. G. Schaaf, 707 Linden avenue, Lima, says "I had rheumatic pains for several years and sometimes they were so bad I had to go on crutches. The last attack I had was three years ago and I couldn't get around at all. My knees were stiff and painful and I was lame all over. My kidneys didn't act right either. I asked a druggist for the best kidney remedy he had and he gave me Doan's Kidney Pills. Before I had used one box I was relieved and could get around much better. After using two boxes the pains were gone and all the aches through my back and limbs were entirely cured. I could work as well as ever and I haven't had any kidney trouble since."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Schaaf had. Foster-Niburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

"WATCH US GROW BIGGER"

THE NEW STYLES FOR FALL AND WINTER---

Those Who Seek Authentic Styles and Quality Goods At Moderate Prices Always Shop At The Leader Store-- Four Floors Filled With Merchandise for Everybody---

Coats---

Coats in all the newest models for fall and winter wear—fashioned of the most wanted and popular fabrics of the season—of Bolivia, Silvertone, Kersey, Velous, Broadcloth are the most desired. Strikingly different in the manner in which furs are used to further enhance the charm of each and every style. There are loose back models, modified Dolman effects and belted styles—in lovely colorings. They are moderately priced from $19.75 to $75.

Suits---

Fur blends so perfectly with the fabrics in many of the new smart suits for fall and winter wear. Tailored of tricotine, duvet de laine, silvertones, all wool serge and etc. But they are not all fur trimmed. Some are quite plain and conservative but are enchanting in the cleverness of their lines. Others are handsomely embroidered pockets and panels. In all regular and stout sizes and moderately priced from $29.50 to $85.00.

Furs---

New ideas invade the world furs. This season designers have outdone themselves in presenting fur wraps and small pieces of an elegance unmatched for many seasons. There are handsome coats, wraps and scarfs attractively lined. Make it a point to visit the fur department; to see the beauty of styles and especially what a wonderful selection we have here for you.

Dresses---

Expressive of fall are the rich warm colors and that is one reason why the new dresses are so distinctive. Dozens of exquisite models and fashioned of tricotine, satin, crepe de chene, georgette and etc. elaborately trimmed with braid, buttons and embroidery, straightline, tunic and overskirt models in all the wanted fall and winter colors and sizes for both regular and stout women and misses. Specially priced from $19.75 to $49.50.

Floor Coverings---

A most wonderful exhibit of all the newest coloring and designs in fall rugs—making a selection from our stock is an easy task as we have the variety. Featuring the finest and best rugs in the world—WHITTALS—in exact reproduction of the world's famous Anglo Persian rugs that are priced at thousands of dollars. If you need rugs, come to the Leader where the prices are moderate.

Boy's Clothing---

A wonderful selection of all the Nifty Boys' Suits in dozens of models to choose from, Norfolk conservative models—snappy styles that will win the admiration of every boy. All the popular fabrics. Excellent workmanship and double stitched throughout with two pair of trousers for $9.95.

Corsets---

We feature the well known—KABO, C. & B. and AMERICAN LADY Corsets which are known for their perfect fitting qualities which will give the average woman a youthful slender figure.—They come in front and back lace styles; pink and white coutil or lace in all sizes for regular or stout women. Specially priced from $1.50 to $7.50.

Blouses---

It seems that every woman in Lima has visited our blouse department remarked the manager the other day. Almost every day new blouses are unpacked and placed on display. The georgette blouses seem to be the most popular these days and especially when women have such a big selection. They come in beaded, embroidered, tailored, braided and tucked models, in all wanted suit shade and specially priced at $5.95 to $16.95.

Fabrics---

Some declare satin the fabrics of fabrics for autumn; others say tricotine. One glimpse at these two materials and you will want both. They are rich in quality and exquisite in weave. Yards upon yards of other fabrics. A most complete line of the silks that you will want to see because of their beauty and lowness of price—Come and see the newest.

Separate Skirts---

Fashion decrees the vogue of separate skirts and it is made possible by the great variety of smart new skirts that are now shown. If there was ever a season for sport plaids, certainly this is it. But do not compare them with plaids of former years as they are quite different in color and styling and in beauty. They are specially priced from $6.95 to $16.50.

Silk Underwear---

If one may judge from this beautiful showing of the latest models for fall, silk underwear is more delightful than ever. Even the most discriminating woman couldn't resist the charms of these vertiable pictures of crepe de chene, satin and other washable silks. Camisoles, bloomers, Billie Burke pajamas, envelope chemise, night gowns and etc., all moderately priced. See this display.

Millinery---

Millinery in a great profusion of styles and trimmings. In all the first showing one is likely to find an abundance of large brimmed hats, but this year their originality depends mostly upon the duvety and satin antique from which they are developed. Fashions place more than due emphasis on brims that are irregular. Turbans and other small hats lean toward feathers and rich fabrics. They are priced from $5.95 up to $16.50.

Fall Footwear---

The clever models in women's and misses' footwear for fall wear is really a delight to see. Beautiful styles in all the newest leathers have arrived. Every class in footwear is here from the dark brown leather at $5.95 to Patent colt and gun metal boot at $9.50. They come in military. Louis and low heels in all sizes and widths. See this display at your earliest convenience.

Juvenile Styles---

The secret is out! Every little girl wants to be like mother or big sister as far as apparel is concerned. That's why we are showing is replete with straight-line models, waists that blouse and even panels. Beautiful warm coats fashioned of Bolivia, silvertone, plush and kersey, belated and etc., in all sizes to 16 years. Moderate prices. Girls silk dresses, gingham dresses too.

House Needs---

Down in the basement you will find every need for the home—dishes, glassware, laundry needs, stoves, graniteware, aluminum-ware and etc. The largest display in northwestern Ohio—There is always a crowd in the basement where the prices are moderate. Everything conveniently displayed on tables for easy selection.

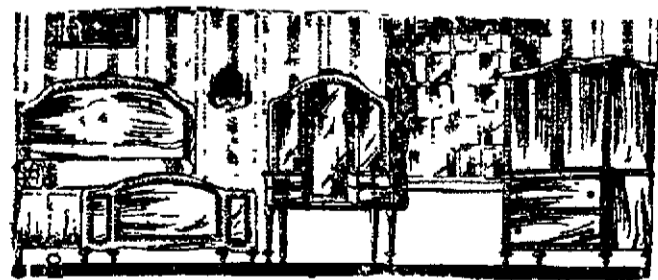

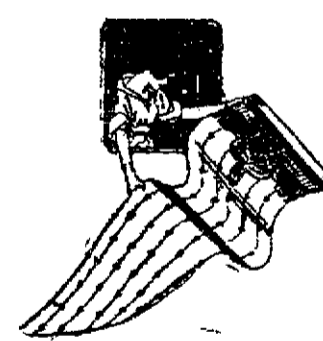

Infants Wear---

We feature the most complete infant dept. in the city—fancy and elaborate apparel—fussy or frilly things for the little one—Dresses, bathrobes, bonnets, Vanata pinless undergarments and etc.—an expert saleslady in charge to render advice about baby comfort and happiness. Mothers, you are welcome.

Movies a Beauty Stimulant

NO LESS an authority than Lorado Taft, the sculptor, asserts that the younger generation of women is being physiologically affected by moving pictures, to the end that they are becoming more beautiful. In his opinion he is supported by a woman painter, who believes that the motion picture is "moulding ever-fresh types of native beauty—new American types." Mr. Taft explains his belief by pointing out that the younger women, and girls, see beautiful women on the screen and then go home and for hours practice before the mirror. The result is more graceful walking, more pleasant faces, finer complexions and greater vivacity.

An epidemic of "vampire" films that swept over the country was reflected in a procession of slouching girls with rolling eyes and comic efforts at looking "naughty." As vampires they could hardly be called a success, but as comedians they unconsciously were a success. Then the vampire craze began to die out, and it was succeeded by athletic, healthy, smiling stars. Soon it was noticed that slouching shoulders began to straighten out. The supposedly alluring "vampire glide" began to be replaced by the more vigorous strides of the athletic and active girl. Pastly white faces gave way to pink cheeks and honest laughter—and all on account of the movies.

At least, this is what Mr. Taft would have us believe. He may be right.

The Farmers' Life and Home

A HIGH-PAID worker in one of the skilled trades was protesting to a farmer against the existing prices of foodstuffs. "Do you realize," replied the farmer, "that if workers in the country were paid on the scale that you are, steaks would cost a dollar a pound?"

The farmer and his men have toiled for so many years for small returns that we seem to take it for granted that they should keep on doing so forever. The rest of us feel a sense of personal injury when we learn that the farmer is trying to keep abreast, even if only in a partial degree, with the upward trend of prices and standards of living. He has always been accustomed to work from daylight until dark for meager returns, and to get along without the conveniences and comforts that make city life agreeable. What's wrong with him that he isn't willing to continue?

"Not so many years ago," related the farmer, "I picked twenty bushels of apples from my trees to haul to the market town twenty miles away. It took all of one day. Driving to the city over sandy roads took the half of the night that was left after I had milked the cows and done the other chores. Times were hard, and I had to sell the apples from house to house, a peck at a time, at twenty-five cents a bushel. It was nearly sundown when the load was sold, and it was eleven o'clock at night when I got home again, with five dollars in my pocket. Five dollars for two days and two nights of drudgery!"

The well-informed knows that this instance is typical of the experience of farmers for many years. To vary the monotony, there have always been the scale, and the bugs, and the worms, and the drought, and the destructive early frosts, to come along and ruin a season's crop and blight the hopes of many months.

Conditions are better in the country now, but they are not so much improved as are conditions for workers in the city. Indeed, the difference is so considerable that many farm regions are being drained of active young men, who go to town to work in factories or on the railroads.

Forty years ago when a farmer built a house for himself, he was apt to put into it all the skill and art that he could command, feeling that he was creating a homestead to hand down to his children. Now, with the young folk so apt to leave early for the cities, the farmer builds only for the present. He puts up all too often a mere shelter to cover him only until he can scrape together enough of a competence to enable him to sell the farm and go to some town to escape racking toil in his declining years.

We are quite apt to hear, when railroad men or coal miners gather in convention that theirs is the basic industry; that everything depends primarily upon them.

Is this true? Well, God help them if the farmers ever decide collectively to stop selling wheat and meat and wool and cotton! We would quickly find out then which is the basic, the vitally important industry.

A century ago, before modern industrialism came in, the farmer was a landlording proprietor and a man of dignity and consequence. His home was a manor house, graced with the best domestic equipment and furniture that he could obtain. His grounds were carefully planned, and were adorned with good shrubbery and charming gardens. The home was a social center, and the children were glad to remain within the sphere of its influence. Lucky was the son who obtained the homestead, there to rear his own young family.

Conditions like these must come again to the farmer and his folk, if American life is to be maintained at the proper level. We all seek a more general diffusion of wealth and comfort, and the farmer is entitled to his share. He may have it if he studies his problem and works it out.

The day is coming when more of us will be glad to be farmers. Mark the prediction.

GOOD EVENING—The girl who used to marry a beau that had pretty hair, has a daughter who marries the beau with the prettiest automobile.

One of the main differences between an unmarried man and a married man is that the married man rushes into the seat first when he and his wife go to a movie show, while an unmarried man stands back and lets the lady take the seat first—but his turn for beating her to it will come along later.

The Crown Prince got his name in the paper once in a while, but if he wants to get some play why doesn't he enter a running race of some kind, and get the benefit of his practice during the war.

Some of these days we suppose they will have a phonograph so perfectly developed that a singer will have to do mighty well in his native state to sound as well as he does in the box.

We know without going any farther, when we see that a certain breed of breakfast food is good doused in butter, that it is not in the going-down class of eatables, and is not for us or ours.

We don't know much about rules and things, but we have observed that the man who does the most working has the least time for knocking.

HOW BACTERIA CAUSE DISEASE AND SCIENCE COMBATS THEM

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSBERG

A. B. M. A., M. D. (John Hopkins University)

Bacteria are practically everywhere on earth. Many varieties of bacteria produce either styes, boils, carbuncles, eczema, dandruff, diptheria, pneumonia, typhoid, erysipelas, scarlatina, tuberculosis or some other ailment. These bacteria are usually to be found in the air, water and earth, and even on the skin of the most soaped-and-bathed individual.

Bacteria are responsible for human maladies mechanically, if they clog the veins and tissues by mere growth as in gall stones or diphtheria, the membranes of the throat. They act chemically, either by decomposing proteins with their enzymes and thereby producing bodies resembling vegetable alkaloids, which are known as animal alkaloids or toxins or ptomaines. Not all ptomaines are poisonous, but some are highly so. If these latter are absorbed disease or death results. Ptomaines should be distinguished from leucotoxins, which while similar in action to ptomaines, are formed during ordinary chemical decomposition and not by the action of bacteria.

Living bacteria excrete substances which are poisonous and which may be absorbed by the body. These poisons (toxins), when in the body, disturb the working of the tissues or destroy them.

How They Act

Some bacteria produce toxins that are very poisonous; other toxins that are not very active. A bacterium that at one time, under certain conditions, produces mildly active poisons, at another time, under different conditions, may produce exceedingly active toxins. The power of a bacterium to produce disease is called its virulence.

It is evident that virulence depends upon the nature of the bacterium upon the number of bacteria present and upon their environment. Bacteria may produce limited or extensive inflammation or a disturbance of the white blood corpuscles, so as to produce an abscess. They may enter the blood stream and be carried around in it producing what is called "blood poisoning," or they may be transmitted to and deposited in one or more tissues or elsewhere, causing remote local infections and may remain at or near the site of entrance and generate toxins, which become absorbed producing toxemia.

Diphtheria is such a disease. All toxins do not disturb all the tissues alike. For example, the toxin from the tetanus bacillus acts chiefly, has a selection action—a specific action—on the nervous system. Also the toxin secreted by the sausage bacillus (bacillus botulinus) found in infected meat, especially bad ham, sausage or canned meats, has an affinity for nerve tissue. Some bacteria affect the red blood corpuscles, others the white corpuscles of the blood. In general, it may be said that certain tissues offer an especial

FARM TENANTS

Can Borrow Money

The man in this country who most needs credit is the thrifty and industrious Farmer. Anything that can be done to help him will in turn help increase production of food, and reduce the cost of living.

This company comes to his assistance of $25 to $500, listing his farm, automobile or other chattels for security, requiring personal endorsement.

We make loans to land-owners as well as tenants, and to local people as well as farmers; but we specialize in loaning money to men of limited means, on the kind of security everybody has, viz., PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Short Stories of the Buckeye State

RUNS BACK TO 1797

Though Marietta college's charter dates back only 1836, she claims an educational lineage running back to the close of the century before last, and with some warrant. On April 29, 1797, a meeting of residents of Marietta, strongly tinged with the New England love of education, decided to establish the Muskingum Academy and erected a building for its home. Though it also served for a time as a Congregational church, it is believed that this building was the first to be erected primarily for educational purposes west of the Allegheny mountains.

Muskingum Academy was continued to 1832, when it was succeeded by "The Institute for Education," which was privately established. But the next year the interests of the private owners of the Institute were brought out by the municipal movement for something more pretentious in higher education than had been attempted before—a college.

A charter was secured that year for a college, but it did not confer upon the institution the authority to grant degrees, and for this reason and also because it was subject to repeal by the legislature, it was not satisfactory to the college authorities. So in 1835 a new charter was secured which carried power to grant degrees and was un-repealable by the legislature.

From that date to the present time, Marietta college has maintained a steady course, a typical small college with pronounced New England features, with but one change in its long career that could be called radical. Originally it was open to men only. Many years ago it was made co-educational. Regarding the academic institutions that preceded it as a part of the same educational enterprise, Marietta may claim to be the oldest institution of higher education in the state.

The local supply of wheat this year is of poorer quality than usual but by using more wheat and throwing more to feed we are able to keep up the quality of PRIDE OF LIMA FLOUR.

Perfect, Pearly Teeth

If you do the saliva must be alkaline. Nature intended it so in order to help digest your food. Many people unknowingly suffer with acid mouth, decay sets in, the enamel of the teeth is attacked, the gums recede, frequently bleed and the teeth become yellow. To counteract these disagreeable conditions, use

Kelner's Specially Prepared Chlorate of Potash Tooth Paste

In time and you will have perfect pearly teeth, hard gums, the enamel will be protected and the natural alkaline condition of the mouth will be restored. Price of large sized tube, 35c. For sale only at the

OUR BED-TIME STORY

FOR THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT FOLKS

As soon as the nurses in the hospital said Ruth was well enough, Jack and Jane and Rob visited her every day, going right after lunch and staying all afternoon. Most of the time the nurses put Ruth in a cute little chair that could be pushed along on wheels and took her out on the big broad porch of the hospital. And there Jack, Jane, Rob, Ladydear, Mrs. Salter and sometimes Captain Brave helped make her very happy.

Ladydear knew hundreds of games, it seemed, that little folks could play without having to run about. There was "Button, button," which everyone knows, of course. Then there was "Simon says thumbs up." If you're never played "Simon says thumbs up," you don't know how unruly your thumbs can be. The children — and Ladydear — took turns making up riddles, too. If the truth be known, Ladydear asked riddles that she was very sure Ruth could answer quickest because Ladydear knew this would make Ruth awfully happy and she wouldn't mind the long hours until the next afternoon, quite so much.

It wasn't so very long until Ruth was able to walk around just a little bit. Jack or Rob and Jane would take her between them, holding tight to her arms and walk about the hospital lawns. Great flower beds bloomed on the edges of the lawns and as the children stopped to admire the pretty buds Ladydear would tell cute little stories about each.

"If Dr. Cheer were here he could tell you more stories about them," she said. "He could tell you where each little flower came from, how they look just as they stick their heads out of the ground, where they grew best an then tell you a fairy story about each one." Of course, Ruth said Rob didn't know who Dr. Cheer was, so Jack and Jane told them all about the wonderful old man they had visited on Beautiful Island, before reaching Europe and all about the wonderful flowers in his gardens there. They told, too, about the odd brown men, women and children, natives on the island, who had shown them such a good time. When Jack told how Jane had become lost in the brown village and everyone became scared, Rob and Ruth thought it was the most exciting thing that ever had happened to anyone they knew.

Then, one morning, the doctors told Ruth that she could go home again and, if she would be very careful and not play too hard for a few days, she would be perfectly well. So that afternoon everybody piled into the airplane again and returned to the Salter home where Rob and Ruth and their mother lived.

"I'm afraid Ruth's sickness delayed you folks and deprived Jack and Jane of quite a bit of fun," said Mrs. Salter that night at the supper table. Captain Brave and Ladydear waited to let Jack and Jane answer Mrs. Salter. And what do you suppose they said:

"It wouldn't have been very nice for us to go away just because Ruth was sick and couldn't play anymore," said Jane. "after she and Rob had been so kind to us."

"And we had more fun making her happy while she was in the hospital than we could have had any place else, because we were doing what we would like to have other little folks do for us," said Jack.

Which showed that the children hadn't become the least bit spoiled during the trip.

Fall Harvest Sale

Lima Merchants will Join in a co-operative Fall Harvest Sale, to be held on October 8, 9, 10 and 11.

For this event the merchants will cooperatively offer their best values simultaneously to make the occasion irresistible to thrifty buyers.

The sale will serve to develop Lima's advantage as a shopping center for the following reasons:—

FIRST:—Lima merchants have large stocks offering a variety for selection comparable with those of the largest cities.

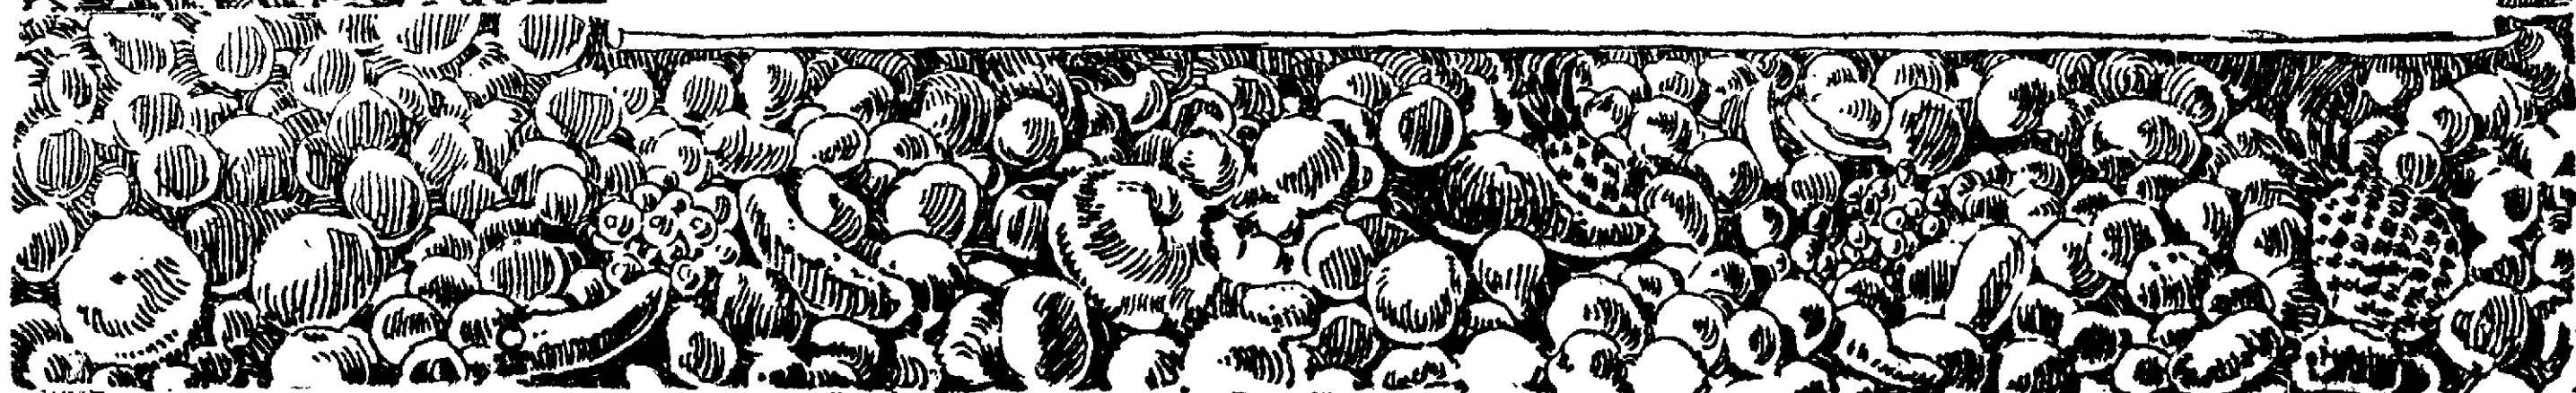

SECOND:—Lima has well conducted stores, operating efficiently, thus reducing the cost of operating and making low prices the rule.

THIRD:—Regular prices in Lima are actually much lower than those charged for similar commodities in other cities as shown by trade journal canvasses. The special prices quoted for the Fall Harvest Sale are a still further incentive to BUY IN LIMA.

A special feature of this event will be prizes awarded for the best farm products displayed.

Lima Merchants have joined in a real effort to make this Fall Harvest Sale a success for the buyer.

A Chance to Live

(By Zoe Beckley)

ANNIE STORMS TILL, CHATELAIN.

The place son was of goodly size, under now and recede under the (union hunt) of the leader. At first Annie was caught in the situation and carried along. Later as the throne swung into broad Delator street she could have escaped, and caught her car for home. But something urged her to continue and see what happened. She had been thinking constantly of the problems of the poor and of her own in particular ever since she and Bernice heard the soupbox orator. Bernice, even more keenly interested than she, brought home some leaflets one night, handed out by another street speaker and together they pored over them. From these Annie learned that Socialism was the name of the doctrine propounded by the speakers and by the leaflets.

Fragments from one of the handbills floated through her mind as she allowed herself to be magnetized into the throng of marching women. "You must own the tools of industry become bread will be secured to you." "You live under a system of society where the few revel in luxury and the many labor in the sweat of their brows for daily existence." None of it was quite clear to Annie, yet she connected it somehow with the demonstration of which she was now a part.

A woman grasped her arm and drew her vigorously into line with the tramping housewives.

"Come on—come with us," she pleaded, "help us get our rights—food for our starving children!"

The quorum army came to the Bowery and turned southward, amid the

XIV.—THE TRYSTING STONE

I was still musing by the pool when Alice came back, followed by a plain little woman whose arms were filled with materials.

"Day-dreaming, or planning fresh campaigns, Nell?"

"I shook my head.

"Wishing that all life could be a midsummer day," I answered, "what have you here—the wedding finery in embryo?"

"This is Miss Adams, Mme. Jeanne's assistant. She has brought some materials to show you. Jeanne will do a rush order on your gown, if you'll make a quick choice."

"How unusual! Don't you find it demoralizing to business?" I asked the little modiste.

"But no," she smiled. "We are becoming accustomed to the war trousseaux. All our clientele is marrying in haste."

She began to spread out lovely delicate fabrics on the willow chairs until the garden looked like a pastel rainbow.

"Alice, that pale green chiffon intrigues my fancy. Combine it with a touch of silver and orchid and let me carry lavender orchids."

"Perfection!" cried Alice, "and we're going to have just the correct background, for the ceremony is to take place before the trysting stone."

"You mean that queer old rock back there by the sundial? Why do you call it 'Trysting Stone'?"

"Have you never heard the legend? You know this place has belonged to the Lloyds since the days of the Revolution, decades before the city grew up around it. An ancestress of my mother's was married to her sweetheart on the eve of his departure for battle and they two plighted their troth before that rock, the idea being that their love would be as lasting as its existence. One night he came back. He had been wounded in battle and had traveled weary miles to die in her arms. A fortnight later they found her lifeless beside the trysting stone and it is said she died of a broken heart."

"What a quaint conceit, but aren't you superstitious about bringing another warrior to face the evil influence of the trysting stone?"

She shook her head with an inscrutable smile.

"I am choosing it designedly. I think the spirit of my ancestress will guard Martin against danger."

"Alice, you ARE queer! It must be falling in love that has changed you."

"Love is the secret of universe, Nell," Alice answered in a low voice which the modiste could not hear. "When you have love, there is no fear of man or beast or devil."

"I notice you aren't woman," unless you include her in 'devil,' I laughed. "What do you think of superstition, Miss Adams?"

"I see so much of it, Mrs. Tindall," she answered smilingly. "Brides are always superstitious about trying on their veils and having the last look sewed on their wedding gowns. I was born in England and the young girls there still use charms to catch the beau they want."

"How perfectly delicious! You must tell me how to work a charm."

Ralph Massman, of West Market Street, is entertaining as his guest over the weekend, Earl Sleeper, of Detroit.

INTEREST IN PRIZE CAMPAIGN INCREASING

Many Thousand Votes Cast Since Last Issue and Big Changes in Standing of the Contestants.

Votes to be Counted on Evening Before Day of Publication—Keep Your Name up in the List.

From FRIDAY, October 3, we will give EXTRA VOTES for subscriptions as follows:

15,000 EXTRA VOTES for $15 in either NEW or OLD Subscript's
40,000 EXTRA VOTES for $30 in either NEW or OLD Subscript's
65,000 EXTRA VOTES for $45 in either NEW or OLD Subscript's
90,000 EXTRA VOTES for $60 in either NEW or OLD Subscript's
115,000 EXTRA VOTES for $90 in either NEW or OLD Subscript's

REMEMBER—This is absolutely the largest offer of the contest, and means that the EXTRA VOTES will be given in addition to the regular scale of votes allowed for carrier and mail subscriptions to The Lima Times. Here is your chance to get in and make the hours count. Set your figure on the highest possible ballot, and don't let up until you have it "CINCHED"

(By Arnold H. Prime)

This is certainly a satisfactory showing for the first three days of balloting and gives ample proof that the enterprise is popular and that it will meet with the tremendous success anticipated when the plan was first considered. The best of prizes were selected and the subscription price reduced—there should be no reason why the contestants nominated in the big campaign should not make the subscriptions and votes fly thick and fast during the next few weeks.

Experienced people have been especially engaged to manage the big campaign and assist any and all candidates so far as they can do so impartially, and their management will be such as to leave no criticism by those who are interested in the struggle. One of the people connected with the Campaign will be at the Times office on the second floor, third at the right, every day, and the general public as well as the contestants are invited to come in and have the campaign plan explained in detail. Everything will be conducted in a fair and square manner. No favoritism will be shown to any contestant.

Casting of Votes

A slight change in the original plan and regular system has been made necessary owing to the great rush of work in the campaign department of the Times office, and that is in regard to the casting of votes each day. The usual way has always been to count the votes in the morning of the same day, but this cannot be done at this office, because of the rush of work, and the number of contestants for whom votes are being cast, therefore the count will be made after 6 o'clock in the evening and the figures changed for the next day's standing. Obviously if a contestant wishes to make any great change in his or her standing, they must turn in their votes before 6 o'clock in the evening to be counted, for the following day's standing. Take heed therefore and govern yourself accordingly.

You Can Enter

New nominations will be received daily and right now while the field is new and comparatively unsolicited is the time to jump in and gain a substantial lead. No candidate has such a start but what it could be overcome should a NEW contestant enter the campaign today and began an active canvas for subscriptions. The campaign is just starting, and there is yet time to get in and land the Willys-Knight Touring Car.

Several of the contestants who have entered are getting started in good shape. They are getting their forces together, and before long will be running up subscriptions and votes in a systematic manner. A little hustling among your friends who have nominated you and who are interested in you, is all that is necessary to lead the entire campaign. Get after your friends who have promised you, and get them to give you their subscriptions now. Don't wait. Promises are good, but people sometimes forget their promises, and you will be the loser, so keep after them every day, and you will run your score high. Every single candidate in the campaign stands on an equal footing and wins the same chance to win.

Extra Votes are the Thing To Go After

Attention is called to the SPECIAL VOTE BARGAIN which is in effect until next Thursday night at 7:30 P. M. Right now is the time to get 15,000 BONUS VOTES for $15 in new or old subscriptions, 40,000 EXTRA votes will be given for $30, and 65,000 for $45 in subscriptions, etc. This is the time to gain a good lead. Every candidate should make plans to save one of the high bonus ballots on Thursday night, for THIS is your OPPORTUNITY.

THE FAUROT'S PRODIGES

Maurice Tourneur's new Paramount-Artcraft special picture, "The White Heather," will have its premiere at the Faurot tomorrow. Unusual interest is attached to the production for a number of reasons. First, because it is the first production coming from Mr. Tourneur in months. Second, it is the first picture made by the director in California. Third, it is described as the best of the melodramas made by the producer of "The Whip," "Sporting Life," "Aussie," "The Valentine," and other screen thrillers.

"The White Heather" is based on Cecil Raleigh and Henry Hamilton's famous Drury Lane melodrama, which met with enormous success in London and later in New York. It had Broadway run with Amelia Blumhagen as the heroine. Richard Bennett also appeared in the company.

When Mr. Tourneur took his entire studio staff to California he selected "The White Heather" as his first production. The background of the melodrama is divided between the Scotch Highlands, the London financial district, the slums and the ocean. The story revolves around the efforts of an unscrupulous nobleman to repudiate his marriage to a pretty commoner, the only record of the ceremony being in the wreck of a yacht at the bottom of the sea.

"The White Heather" culminates in a death struggle between the hero and the villain at the bottom of the sea, both trying to get possession of the fateful paper locked within a water-tight chest. These scenes were actually taken on the ocean floor off San Pedro Harbor, Mr. Tourneur utilizing the newest subsea photographic inventions of the Williamson Brothers.

This big feature will be accompanied by the Pathe News, Bray Cartoons and Paramount Pictographs.

"A Daughter of the Wolf," a new Paramount picture starring Lila Lee, will be shown at the Faurot theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The story, which is filled with thrills and rapid action of the greatest dramatic value, was written by Hugh Pendexter for the Woman's World issue of January 1919. It is a story that is especially well adapted for screen purposes because of the thrilling action and colorful atmosphere. It is rich in suspense and finishes with a bang.

"The Rosebud Cadets," with "The Captain and the Kids"—Cartoon Musical Comedy With Girls—At the Faurot Tonight

The picture was produced under the direction of Irvin Willat. J. O. Taylor is responsible for the superb photography and supporting the star is an unusually strong cast, chief among whom are Elliott Dexter, Clarence Geldart, Raymond Hatton, Dick Wayne, Minnie Provost, James Mason, Jack Herbert, Marcia Manon, James Neill, Clyde Benson and Roy Diem.

Added features of this program will include the Pathe News and Mack Sennett's latest and funniest comedy, "Treating 'em Rough."

After having disappointed several weeks ago through an error in shipment, the Faurot is going to present the new Paramount edition of that rollicking stage success, "The Traveling Salesman," as the principal feature of its program next Friday. Frank McIntyre will have the same role in which he made such a hit in the original production and has the support of pretty Doris Kenyon and a notable cast. Other items of the bill will include Burton Holmes' Travel pictures and the Topical Digest.

Hailed by critics as one of the greatest motion pictures ever produced, the Paramount-Artcraft feature "The Miracle Man," will soon be displayed at the Faurot. It is the screen version of George M. Cohan's play that scored so emphatically on Broadway some months ago, and which in turn was based on Frank L. Packard's famous novel. No picture in recent months has had so much praise lavished upon it for the dramatic quantity of its story, its keen characterization, and beautiful photography.

The story of "The Miracle Man," centers around an old patriarch of the hills who has gained a reputation for the power to heal the sick and crippled. To him come a band of unscrupulous crooks from the slums of New York—Tom Burke, their leader; Rose The Frog, and the Depe—who have conceived the scheme of capitalizing the healer's gift and taking the money for themselves.

What follows is one of the most absorbing stories, ever unfolded on the screen. In the hands of such talented players as Thomas Meighan, Elinor Fair, Betty Compson, Lon Chaney, and W. Lawson Butts, the development of the chief characters under the influence of the deaf and blind patriarch is portrayed with admirable skill.

FAUROT

"THE CAPTAIN AND THE KIDS"
 The big crowd that attended the Faurot this afternoon carried away hilarious and pleasing impressions of "The Captain and the Kids," the musical comedy based upon the famous cartoons of Rudolph Dirks. In spite of the fact that there is a fine cast of principals and a chorus that can sing and dance and is mighty good to look at, the honors of the show are carried off by the Kids. There are hardly a scene in which these clever impersonators did not figure in a medley of fun and frolic.

The play abounds with tuneful music, dashing dances and is handsomely staged and costumed. Dottie Leighton was perhaps the most popular member of the efficient cast. She displayed some beautiful costumes, has an excellent voice and is a graceful and supple dancer.

"The Captain and the Kids," is replete with novelties that are set in an atmosphere that radiates laughter and melody. It's a corking good entertainment and fully deserves the big success that it is meeting with during its local engagement. Last times tonight.

As the name implies, "Seven Days Leave" is a war play of the most pronounced gunpowder type, and it has proved so thoroughly within the psychology of the hour that it is now being played simultaneously with great success in London, South Africa, Australia, Canada and the

THE MOST LUXURIOUS SCREEN PRODUCTION OF THE YEAR

United States.

"Seven Days' Leave" was written by Walter Howard, an English actor and takes its name from the term used in Britain for the furlough granted soldiers to run across the channel for a brief visit at home. The action of the play takes place within the seven days of the usual soldier's leave and has its locale rural England and the sea coast and channel. While essentially British, the leading character is a young Irish-American, who has become a major in the British army; and the big scene of the third act is on the gun deck on an American cruiser, which destroys the enemy U-Boat.

Aside from the mass of intrigue woven of a swarm of spies which holds the audience in continuous suspense and the thrilling sensationalism, "Seven Days' Leave" boasts of a strong appeal through heart interest as well as a strong comedy vein. Even the management is true to the atmosphere being in the hands of Robert Campbell, a son of the late Bartley Campbell who gave to the American stage "The Galley Slave," "The White Slave," "Siberia," and a long line of plays of the bombastic type whose influence contributed largely to the popularity of melodrama.

The story of "Seven Days' Leave," deals with the efforts of German spies to steal the plans of a submarine detector invented by the young Irish-American. The English heroine and a charming emissary of the Kaiser match wits throughout the action and finally engage in a desperate swimming race to a buoy far out at sea from which the latter seeks to signal a German submarine, but is thwarted by the heroine. This sensational scene, which furnishes a consistent excuse for the appearance of two beautiful women in one-piece bathing suits and an alarming display of pulchritude was the talk of New York. After the destruction of the submarine, the final scene carries the spectators to a quiet English churchyard, where a troop of American soldiers are seen at the dedication of a shrine from which they march to embark for France.

Oriental atmosphere and detail.

The story has as its central figure Sheka, a beautiful girl who has been reared by Hamid-Ali, a desert pirate living in Cairo as a retired merchant. When Hamid discovers that his foster-daughter has fallen in love with a wealthy young Englishman, he carries her to the slave-market in order to reap the financial reward of his care for the beautiful girl, by selling her into slavery. But Sir Derek, the Englishman, traces her to the slave market, pays Hamid a big price and marries Sheka.

In the aristocratic environment of the English smart-set Sheka's eyes are opened to the more civilized barter-and-sale of European women for money and titles, and when the necessity for money arises in order to save Sir Derek from bankruptcy, Sheka offers to sell herself to a millionaire duke.

Howard Hickman, who directed the production, has succeeded in producing a play that moves rapidly and sustains interest throughout and has selected an unusually strong cast.

RIALTO THEATRE
"Sahara"

The Rialto theatre presents, starting Sunday, what the management believes to be the most dramatic, soul-stirring drama set in the most lavish, colorful and artistic settings the screen has ever seen. This picture is "Sahara," starring Louise Glaum. C. Gardner Sullivan, the most famous of all photoplay authors, wrote "Sahara," which is a big Rodkinson picture presented by J. Parker Read, Jr. and supervised by Allen Dwan.

Louise Glaum plays the role of Mignon, the darling of Paris, on whom her American husband, portrayed by Matt Moore, has wasted his fortune. He takes over an engineering job on the Sahara desert and Mignon against her wishes but lured by the promise of a visit to Cairo, accompanies him and dwells in a luxurious tent on the burning sands. But six months of the sand and the praying Arabs drive her to such an utterly depraved state of discontent that she leaves her husband and goes to Cairo with Baron Alexis (Edwin Stevens.)

Years later she finds her husband, demented and a victim of drugs, and her child begging in Cairo. He has sworn to kill the woman who wrecked his life. She, with every desire fulfilled except that of happiness, is moved to her first deed of real, loving sacrifice—the return of her husband's mind though it means her death! She does all in her power to cure him, and the day comes when she is recognized. What then of the butterfly who found her soul? Of the man who suffered a living death for the love of an unfaithful wife? Of the child who missed a mother's guiding hand when it was most needed? The climax will grip, surprise and please you.

WHEN POETS DISAGREE.

A critic told at the Players' club a story about Edgar Lee Masters, author of the "Spoon River Anthology."

"Masters and an English poet," he said, "were discussing their work."

"My dear Edgar," the Englishman drawled, "your poetry doesn't lack fire and sincerity, but it's rough. It's so sketchy. Why do you never finish?"

"Masters gave a loud, discordant laugh."

FIRE PREVENTION DAY.

A proclamation asking that all schools observe fire prevention day has been received by local school authorities from Governor James Cox. That day occurs on Thursday, October 9. Fire drills will probably be conducted in the schools, and demonstrations will be conducted in life saving and fire fighting by local firemen, according to Chief Mack.

ENLARGED PLANT
ASSURED DELPHOS

DELPHOS, Oct. 4.—Delphos is to have the American Road Machinery company addition and work on the building was resumed Friday morning in accordance with the action at a meeting of citizens of Delphos which was held at the Commercial club rooms Thursday evening.

The meeting was arranged because the committee did not feel that it was empowered to close the proposition and desired the instructions of the citizens before proceeding in the matter.

The subscriptions had been solicited on the proposition of moving the Ft. Wayne plant to Delphos and when the committee found that the forging department of that plant would not come to this city it felt that the people who were pledging the money should be consulted in the matter before definite action was taken.

The turntable to be installed at the local yard of the D. T. & C. railroad arrived Friday. Excavating has already been completed and the turntable will be installed at once. It will be in operation the early part of next week and will overcome the difficulty which the company has had in turning their engines in this place. Up to the present time, it has been necessary for them to use the turntable at

Cool-headed Conference

Between Employer and Employee Means Calm Co-operation

American industry never yet, in all its long and prosperous career, found one helpful idea in the imported doctrines of disorganization and disorder. There is no room in America for ultra-radicalism born of autocratic oppression of other lands.

From the Declaration of Independence we will take our creed. It proclaims the inalienable right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—to live happily by what we have gained by our industry, our thrift and our enterprise; to enjoy the fruits of honest work; not to divide with the lazy, the shiftless and unenterprising.

America stands for equality of opportunity and reward for initiative and individual effort. The worker of to-day may become the millionaire of tomorrow. Many of our American millionaires rose from the ranks.

When in answer to the plea of Theodore Roosevelt, on behalf of labor for "collective bargaining" and "representation on directorates" we find the leaders in the business world frankly espousing the "granting to the workers a larger share in the administrative affairs" and advocating "adequate representation with joint conferences" and beginning to put these reforms into practice in a signed agreement with labor, the outlook for progressive calm co-operation is bright indeed.

It is clear we are too far advanced for any serious consideration of the European disorganizers, except to see that they obey the laws of the land.

RUMOR JOHN HARLEY MAY RESIGN FROM MAYORALTY RACE

Don't Be Surprised if He Announces His Withdrawal From Ticket

BLANK IS LOSING OUT

Burkhardt Campaign is Winning Out and Voters Like His Style

Col. John A. Harley may refuse to be a candidate on the republican ticket for mayor and tender his resignation, stepping down and out rather than suffer the humiliation of defeat at the hands of a socialist.

This is rife around City Hall and in police circles where Harley formerly served as Safety Director. Harley is thoroughly disgusted with recent antics of City Hall and is said to have virtually broken with Safety Director Gale and Mayor Simpson, whom he was to have named as secretary of the waterworks, the salary to be brought up to $3,000 a year.

Harley knows he cannot "shake" his old friends, Col. Gale and the old transfer-burn organization which made him safety director and oil inspector and Harley has been part and parcel of that famous organization. Openly he must stick by them and go down but in the back room conferences there is other style of talk, the kind where a spade is called a spade. Harley believes he still has a chance of election but in stead of the old cliché of a few weeks ago it is now a case of appeal to all leaders to get busy and raise a huge campaign fund to put him over.

Burkhardt Gains
The trade dope shows Burkhardt is gaining strength in every quarter. Burkhardt's workers on the south side say he will capture the labor vote, as 1,500 of the men now out of work believe that they are in this condition because of Blank's active work at organization among the moulders. The men on strike only number about 200 while the other 1,500 are out because of them and getting tired and weary of it. These conditions are well known to the Gale Downing-Quail machine and to Candidate Harley.

It is because Harley recalls the serious condition that he has intimated he may resign and quit. He believes it will be Blank who may beat him and his no fear of Burkhardt while democratic leaders want

Laudick Confident

Chairman Miller Laudick now active at headquarters in the Morris Arcade is wearing a confident smile. He says things never looked better and that Burkhardt is the best little campaigner since the days of late Judge Theodore D. Robb. Laudick is leaving no cards unturned and his advance canvass fails to show that because Frank Burkhardt has worked for a living with the Ohio Electric he sold his soul.

Will Poll

Burkhardt will poll the united dry vote of the city. Churches will endorse him, and some of these endorsements will come openly from the public, his friends say. Burkhardt has been a church worker for years and the dries know he is dry. There is no camouflage about it; Burkhardt stands for decency, order and temperance. On this platform he will not waver.

Won't Get Soldiers

Harley will not get the so-called soldier vote, which is strongly against any militia officer. Were he a buck private or a top sergeant he would get this vote; but no Colonel can capture it this year.

That will come five or ten years from now for it takes time to make a hero popular. Harley has nothing on which to gain votes except from the City Hall Machine, the cry of keeping the old crowd in to complete the reservoir, which has now been building ever since Simpson took oath for his first time. Being so familiar, in fact, with this reservoir is why Simpson will be made secretary to that department. Methean will be retained as service director, and Gale as safety director. The only shift in faces and power will be in Bailey taking his hat and going down stairs and starting on his books again.

Harley sees all this and don't be surprised if you read his resignation before the close of another week. His partner was defeated by a socialist; Harley doesn't want history to repeat itself.

MRS LULU SMITH'S FUNERAL MONDAY

The body of Mrs. Lulu Smith who died at her home in El Dorado, Kansas, was accompanied to Lima this afternoon and taken to the home of her brother, A. L. Smith, 135 Harrison avenue. Funeral services will be held Monday morning, owing to the late arrival of relatives in this city. Mrs. Smith was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Smith. She has made her home in El Dorado for the past five years, moving there from Illinois. The deceased was the wife of J. Fred Smith. Besides the husband one son, Donald, two brothers, A. L. Smith and Edward Smith, of Ogden, Utah and two sisters, Mrs. Gilda L. Van Doran and Mrs. May Preckwinkle, both of Roselle Park, New Jersey survive her.

IS KILLED WHEN THROWN FROM AUTO

VAN WERT, Oct. 4.—Albert Grant, 47, of Morocco, Ind., received fatal injuries, from which he passed away in a couple of hours and his wife received very serious injuries, with her life still hanging in the balance, about 10 o'clock near the Coffin school house, just south of Sherwood, when they were thrown out of the rear seat of their automobile by the rebound when the wheel dropped into a little cross drain or ditch, at the road side, which was covered with grass, and not observed by their son, who was driving.

Both of the injured couple were taken to the Paulding hospital, where Mr. Grant died in about 20 minutes after their arrival and Mrs. Grant has been in a comatose stage most of the time since, with slim chance of recovery.

The Grant family, consisting of the parents, their son, aged about 21, and a daughter, a young lady, were en route home from a tour to Niagara Falls.

"LITTLE WORLD'S SERIES" TO BE STAGED IN LIMA

Triangles, Champions of the State Will Stack Up Against
"Our Boys" in Three Games For the Championship

JOHN NEE

(BY JAMES F. BURBA)

Cincinnati and Chicago may be having their World's Series, and Lima may be getting more real sport out of the pastime than ever before, but starting with tomorrow, the fans of this city are going to be given a treat for three Sundays such as they have never before enjoyed. A "Little World's Series" will be played here tomorrow and the two Sundays following, between the local aggregation and the Dayton Triangles, conceded to be state amateur champions.

That the contests, each and every one, will be terrific there is not a doubt, for while the Gem City aggregation may be the best within the bounds of Ohio, the locals have been playing a classy brand of ball this season, and Manager Holloran informs us he has secured the services of some prominent pastimers.

These men are Brannigan, catcher and Betzel, third sacker. This Brannigan was for sometime receiver in the American Association, and later in the Three-Eye League. Betzel, a well known minor league performer, has a reputation worth consideration.

With these two additions to local organization it should give the Triangles one awful run for their money. Davis, who last Sunday handed the Dayton Americans a walloping will work on the mound tomorrow. In case this former Indian does not prove effective Pierce will be in the "bull pen" warming up.

The Line-Up

Probable line-up of the home guard, tomorrow will be:
Costello, cf; Wentz, ss; Long, 2b; Egan, rf; Sykes, lb; Harrison, if; Betzel, 3b; Brannigan, c; Davis, p.

Now while the locals may be strengthened to a fine point, that is just the way they are going to have to be if they take these games from the Triangles, for some of the classiest performers in this section of the country are playing on that nine. Herring, who played ball in Lima two years ago, and caught himself into the hearts of local fans, will be on the receiving end for the Gem City outfit.

Nee, who for years piloted Dayton Central League team, will hold down the shortfield, while Whelan, a former St. Louis Brown, will watch the third hill. Shirm, who used to gallop around first base for various teams in the old Central League will be seen in action at that position. Carson, one of the most widely known semi-pro left fielders in the game will take care of that garden, while Thiesing, late of the Western League will cover the center garden.

Seitz, who needs no introduction to local fans, having pastimed here at the same time Herring performed, will be seen in action at his old stand, the keystone sack. For twirlers the Dayton outfit has Lape, former Southern and Western Leagues flinger, and Leaks who for a few seasons pastimed with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The probable lineup for the Triangles tomorrow will be:
Carson, if; Sites, 2b; Nee, ss; Thiesing, cf; Whelan, 3b; Martin, rf; Shirm, lb; Herring, c; Leake, p.
The Triangles have played thirty-two games this season, and have lost only eight. They have defeated such teams as the Rail-Lights, Massillon, Norwoods, Bellevue, Ky., Marmion "34's" of Indianapolis, New Castle, Middletown, Wiedmans, Piquette, and Newport, Ky.

VOLTAGE CAPTURES PREMIER EVENT

Zolo Zombro, Piloted By an Event—Lu Princeton

Lowers Record

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 4.—The Lexington, for two-year-old trotters, intended for the feature here yesterday, was won easily in two heats by Voltage, a son of Peter Volo, owned by Welsh & Bridgman, of Missouri and Ohio. The winner was the outsider in the pooling, the favorite being Lucille Harvester, which divided second and third money with Harvest Horn.

Directum J had to go three hard heats to win the free-for-all pace from Grace Direct. The deciding heat there was only a nose separating them at the finish. Murphy clearly outdriving, Sturgeon. Directum J was favorite with $100 to $50 for the field.

The unfinished 2:16 pace went to Miss Zolo Zombro, even money favorite. In the deciding heat Vic Fleming drove Time Sheet and Jimmy Fogarty piloted the Northern Star, the judges using the derrick on Wagner and Gourley.

Lu Princeton, driven by Walter Cox and accompanied by three runners, trotting against time, lowered his record from 2:02 to 2:01, equalling The Harvester's record and second only on the list of trotting stallions to Lee Asworthy (1:58¾). These three fastest stallions are all products of Walnut Hall Farm, near Lexington.

Rascal won the 2:08 pace in straight heats and the talent was dumped, for Aquilla Dillon was heavily supported in the auctions. Hickory Bill won the 2:13 trot quite handsly and the smart set again went into the ditch, the favorite being Harvest Tide.

John R. McCune, of Pittsburgh today bought Abbie Putney from the Pastime Stable.

Everything is all set for the next exhibition of the Lima Boxing Club, on October 15, and Matchmaker Will-doner says, if this is not one of the best cards ever pulled off in the city, he will take a back seat, and let someone else take a try at staging good exhibitions.

The main go, between Hope Mullen, Sidney battler and Marty Reese, a coming fighter from Franklin, should prove as interesting as it will be exciting. Mullen needs no introduction to local dwellers in fistiano, for he has fought one good battle in Lima. He is a battler who believes in being clean, and giving his opponent every opportunity. In his recent battle against Bud Fischer before local fans, Mullen demonstrated this.

Mullen knew he had the Dayton battler outclassed, and he, time and time, again gave Fischer opportunities to land on him. After he had sent Fischer to the mat, Mullen slowed down, and refused to land the hayo on the fighter from the Gen city. Local fans admired him for this, and the fact that he will again fight here will prove a drawing card in itself. Mullen, at his last fight here, was slower than he should have been. He has gotten rid of this, and has demonstrated that he is shifty of foot. He has ability, and is fit for punishment, believing in letting his opponent wear himself out, and then leading the sleep potion.

However, in all his battles Mullen has never fought a man quite so good as this Reese and is reputed to be. Marty has twenty-nine victories to his credit, twenty-six of them being knockouts. He carries a punch in either arm like the south end of a mule, and when he connects, the little birds begin singing over the opponent. He is swift as lightning, and can take a wonderful lot of punishment.

While this main bout will head the list for excitement, the semi-final mill between Young Don Baxter local fighter and Billy Bruce of Franklin will certainly come in for its share of attention. Baxter fought here at the last show, and won a place for himself in the hearts of local fans.

He met and held his own Bruno Suto, an old head who has battled some of the best little men in this neck of the woods. Baxter made so good a showing that the fans called him for a return engagement. Quickly he graduated from the preliminary class to the semi-windup.

The fact that Baxter displayed so

Everything is all set for the next exhibition of the Lima Boxing Club, on October 15, and Matchmaker Will-doner says, if this is not one of the best cards ever pulled off in the city, he will take a back seat, and let someone else take a try at staging good exhibitions.

SOX'S FIRST VICTORY GIVES THEM GREAT CONFIDENCE

Reds Stung By Shutout are Hot After Revenge and Will Try Hard to Get Contest Today
Cicotte Will Pitch

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Reassured by a 3 to 0 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the third game of the world series, the Chicago White Sox today declared they were ready to back up Edie Cicotte, their one-time battered "ace" with the fighting spirit that brought them the pennant in the American League and even up the series at 2-2.

The Reds, stung by the first shut-out of the series after two wins on their home field did not believe they again would encounter such marvelous pitching as shown by Kerr, midget hurler of the White Sox, and assert their expectations of having no hard time with the "shine" and "knuckle" ball Cicotte would serve up, if he should be Manager Gleason's selection, or any of the other Sox twirlers.

Sox Had "Breaks"

Sox players yesterday in addition to bona fide world series pitching by the diminutive Kerr, got the "breaks of the game" and brought the series to 2-1. They claimed the Reds won the two games at Cincinnati only through "breaks" but the visitors ridiculed such claims.

Having familiarized themselves with the breezes, shadows and sun spots of Comiskey Park, Manager Moran's winners of the National League race were confident of a better showing today.

The partial suppression of ticket scalpers by government revenue officers, who took 12 alleged paste-board profiteers in down-town hotel lobbies and around the park, also was expected to add to the admissions today at Comiskey Park.

Cicotte May Work

No announcement from either Manager Gleason, of the Sox, or Moran, of the Reds was forthcoming early today as to his pitching selection for today's game, but it generally was believed that Cicotte would be sent back to face the Reds' bats that drove him from the box in the first game at Cincinnati and either Ruether or "Hod" Eller would be the Red moundsman.

White Sox supporters figured on seeing Ruether putting over his left hand slants in view of the two Red southpaw victories and the defeat of a right hander yesterday.

Cicotte who said he was unnerfed by hitting a batsman at Cincinnati told Manager Gleason he again was ready to start against the National League champions. Gleason as usual, seemed willing to trust Cicotte's word that he was "ready."

KERR PITCHES SHUTOUT BALL AGAINST REDS IN THIRD GAME

Youngster Hurls Airtight Ball, Allowing Reds Only Three Safeties While His Teammates Gather
Trio of Runs

(By James F. Burba)

After taking the first two games of the series, the Reds yesterday bowed before the offerings of one Texan, a Richard Kerr, who seemed to be in rare form, and held the Hompling Reds to three hits, and shut them out. This lad was figured as a strong contender, but he was never figured this much. For the entire nine innings he had the National League winners eating from his hand. None of the raps secured by the men of Moran were for extra bases.

Fisher, working on the mound for the Reds, was slammed around at the will of the Windy City gang. They tapped him for seven hits, and unlike Thursday they hit when a safety counted. In the eighth Moran lifted Fisher, and let Magee bat for him. Magee did the inevitable and retired the side when he lifted a high fly to Liebold. Luque replaced the former Sox twirler, and held the Chicago to no hits for the one inning.

Dope said, Kerr would pitch very good ball up to the fourth inning and then he would weaken. Yes he did. Instead he got steadier, and worked like a clock. There was never any time of the game when the Sox were in danger. The three hits that the Reds got were very scattered. Kerr evidently thinking to play good and safe, allowed the Cincy gang one hit every other inning up to the fifth, and then he got greedy and stopped them all together. It was a crime, and a shame the way he treated the Nationals. He might have let them have one score, but no, he had to get stingy, and as a result it was sad, very sad news that was wired back to the Cincinnati fans last night.

Be that as it may, the Reds surely can't expect to take every contest. They have captured the first two. It is no more than right that the Sox should cop yesterday's event. If the Sox manage to win every third day, Cincinnati will be alright when the final reckoning comes.

Evidently Chicago fans didn't believe in their favorites so very much. At least they did not turn out in any extraordinary numbers to witness the game. The final attendance figures show there were 29,126 fans present. This is several thousand less than the number which saw the games in Redland. The gross receipts were $90,569. This is nearly $7,000 less than was collected Thursday in Cincinnati.

But to get back to the struggle. Fisher can blame no one but himself for losing yesterday's contest. In the second inning after Jackson had singled, Felsch laid down a sacrifice, which Fisher grabbed. In an endeavor to catch Jackson at second, Fisher heaved the ball to center field. Both Jackson and Felsch advanced a base. Then Fisher allowed Gandie to single, scoring the two men. Not that we blame him for Gandie's hit, but why an old veteran like Fisher should let himself get stage frightened and make heaves like he did is beyond our ken.

One did not have to be in front of The Times yesterday to tell how the game was going. If one was in hearing distance that was enough, for there was little to hear. The crowd was composed mainly of Red boosters and when the Sox made their two scores in the second it seemed to take all the jazz right out of the gathering. They were pulling hard for the Cincinnati gang, but their efforts were in vain.

Well, yesterday's struggle should give no cause for worry, for Gleason has about used the best he has, and if the Reds can stage a repetition on Cicotte and Williams, Moran should worry, and here is hoping, with the accent on the hope.

much of his good wares at his first battle before the club is responsible for Matchmaker Wildouner bringing him back. He is expected to establish a reputation for himself in his fight with Billy Bruce, but he will have to travel faster than he did in September for Bruce is a fast little man, and just as nifty as they make 'em.

He comes to Lima with a reputation of being a dealer in hard jabs and swift punches. He is out of the same stable as Reese, and has fought and beat some awfully good good men around Columbus. He comes to Lima well touted, and should make a good showing.

In the prelim, One-Round Boyer will match his wits and punches with Ivan Seerlock, who is "bear cat" for his weight. This chap has a good clean reputation, and should prove an able contender for Boyer's scalp.

Boyer, according to dope is everything his moniker implies, and then a little more. He says, he is going to whip Seerlock so fast that the fans will not realize a fight has been staged. Mebbe so, mebbe so, but that remains to be seen.

STOCKS DEVELOP SOME RECOVERIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The stock market made substantial recoveries during today's brief trading period from its extreme depression of the preceding session, new from Washington causing buying for both accounts. Renewed of the recent inquiry for rails, particularly Pacifics and Grangers at gains of 2 to almost 4 points, provided a better foundation for speculative issues. Steel, equipment, motor, oil and food shares registered advances of 2 to 11 points. Crucible Steel, American and Baldwin Locomotives, General Motors and Mexican Petroleum featuring their respective divisions. American Woolen, Central Leather, Atlantic Gulf and Tobacco also made valuable gains. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 450,000 shares.

AUGLAIZE BANK IS ROBBED OF $25,000 IN BONDS

Local police have asked to be on the lookout for robbers who Friday night cracked the safe in a bank at New Knoxville, and procured $25,000 worth of Liberty Bonds deposited there by citizens of the locality. More than $8,000 in cash was overlooked by the thieves who used an acetylene torch to open the safe. The robbery was not discovered until employees opened the bank Saturday morning.
Entrance to the institution was gained by forcing a rear window, according to advices received here.

Bluffton Defeats Fast Kenton Team

The Kenton football aggregation was given a drubbing at the hands of the Bluffton High School eleven yesterday afternoon. When the referee's whistle blew for the last time and the tallies were counted the final score showed 19 to 0. While the Kenton team outweighed the Allon county lads by an average of 20 pounds to the man, the Bluffton team was much faster, and simply played rings around the Kenton outfit.

This is the second game of the season for the Bluffton boys and they have not been scored upon. Coach Patterson has developed a wonderful aggressive machine, and their reputation clean. They are a the lads are battling hard to keep their reputation clean. They are a snappy lot of players, with ability to fight. They are strong on the offensive, but more so on the defensive. They play hard, and the word defeat is not in their vocabulary.

REPORTS SMALL DEFICIT
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 4.—John P. Druffel, of Cincinnati, spent $2,136 in getting up two referendum petitions on the female suffrage propositions that are pending. He has a deficit of $16, since he collected only $3,170 for the task. Cincinnati and Dayton people were the contributors.

THE BUSINESS OF BEING FUNNY

Byron G. Harlan's present function in this world is to entertain people with his delightful rendition of clever songs. But in spite of his amusing ways on the stage Mr. Harlan is decidedly a serious "business man."

He didn't start to study music till he was twenty-four years old. Then he left his home and went to Chicago. He secured an engagement with an opera company and then appeared in "A Texas Steer." It was right here that Mr. Harlan's business ability came to the force. So he started a company of his own and became a producer himself.

FIRST MEETING OF JOINT COMMITTEE HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

Street Car System to Enter
Into Investigation,
With Lights

CONTRACT SUBMITTED

Will Be Thoroughly Gone
Over Before Report is Given to Public

Tentative contracts for lighting the streets of Lima, and inaugurating of a comparatively new street railway system were discussed last night at a meeting of the joint committee chosen from various organizations of Lima, and officials of the Ohio Electric company.

The street lighting situation has just been started by this committee which will employ expert engineers to go over the contract thoroughly, and ascertain, as far as possible, the justification of the demands made by the electric company in the contract. These engineers will be employed about October 20 and make a thorough investigation. If the demands of the company are deemed just, council will be recommended to grant the demands.

If, on the other hand, the demands are not to Lima, the committee backed by their respective organizations will then make a fight for a municipal lighting system. If it is within the law, the organizations will defray the expense of a special election at which the people will decide whether or not they desire a municipal system.

Also Discuss Street Cars

Plans for revamping street railway service were also heard, and the matter has been taken under advisement, and investigations will be made. The new contract for the system calls for "service at cost" in other words, street car riders will pay just the amount per capita that it takes to finance the lines with a justified profit. The fare will start at five cents. For six months it will remain this. At the end of that period, an investigation will be made, and if it is found that the street car company is making a fair profit, the fare will remain five cents. However, if it is shown that the company is losing money, the fare will be raised a cent or two. Thus like the first fare, will remain stationary for a six months period, and then another investigation will be made. If the company is making more than it deemed justifiable, the fare will be reduced. This is something on the order of the Taylor plan now being successfully operated in Cleveland.

One Man

One man, safety cars will also be considered. The company has agreed to place 25 new cars in service. It is granted the one man cars. In order that the satisfaction of these cars may be determined, the Ohio Electric will convey the cars to the city and representatives from local business men, Port Wayne and Terry Harte, where the cars are in operation. City officials of the two cities will be interviewed relative to the cars.

Extend Lines

Local lines will be extended to the various factories, and various other improvements are promised by the company if the new contract is entered into.

Those who attended the meeting last night are:

John Boose, Rotary club, B. A. Gramm, Kiwanis club, A. J. Dunn, Leal Leflate board, Dan W. Morris, Citizens' Committee, R. B. Dunn, Merchants. As occasion, Frank Colby, Automobile Club, Ernest D. West, Chamber of Commerce, John J. Galvin, Manufacturers Association, J. B. Dunn, Resident Manager, The Ohio Electric Railway Company, W. C. Bradley, Chamber of Commerce, W. H. Clark, Judge, George H. Quail, A. in Tarryn, and President of Council W. I. Dempster.

RIVER ESTIMATE FILED

City Auditor Rupert today received the eleventh monthly estimate of the Ottawa River improvements. It showed that work to the extent of $21815 was done during the month of September. The sixth monthly estimate of the Elizabeth street bridge was also received. It amounts to $4918.86.

SINGERS COMING TO LIMA, OCT. 10

Collins and Harlan, America's Favorite Entertainers
Be Brought Here

Announcement is made that those amusing singers, Collins and Harlan are scheduled for a concert in Memorial Hall on the night of Friday, October 10th.

Collins and Harlan have earned the reputation of being America's Favorite Entertainers because of their astonishing repertoire of humorous songs.

Neither Arthur Collins nor Byron G. Harlan started out to enter their present career. Mr. Collins was going to be an actor. What if his ancestors were all Quakers? That was nothing compared with the longing he had actually, to make his appearance behind the footlights.

So he left his home in Philadelphia and journeyed to New York. Just as they did. And then he became a successful opera singer and got a real job with De Wolf Hopper in "Wang." Mr. Collins also appeared in "The Lion Tamer" with Francis Wilson.

It was after that, that he met with Byron G. Harlan, and the two decided to combine their talents.

Mr. Harlan is one of those famous people from Kansas. Recently all the celebrities there are came from Kansas once upon a time. But Mr. Harlan's family early emigrated to South Dakota where he has been since. Unlike Mr. Collins, his own father never meant to be an actor at all. But he did have a beautiful voice and he decided to go to the city and enter the show business. He came to Lima, Ohio. And then Mr. Harlan began his career with an engagement in an opera company. After that he appeared in "A Texas Steer" having seen the inside working of a theatre and having also met Mr. Arthur Collins. Harlan decided he had had enough of being "just an actor." So he started a company of his own and became a producer himself.

FLU NOT SHOWING UP IN LIMA YET

No cases of influenza have been reported to the local board of health so far this fall, according to Miss Nish, in charge of the registry department of the health board. It was just a year ago this time that the influenza epidemic took such a stronghold on the country but physicians do not believe that there will be a recurrence of the epidemic measure as serious as that of a year ago.

Everyone is urged however, to be careful about contracting colds, and if they are really ill with a cold to see a physician and check it in one way or another it becomes serious.

There is the usual number of cases of diphtheria in the city owing to the opening of schools. Children being permitted by careless parents to attend school when they should be home in quarantine. The number of cases in Lima this is comparatively small considering the population and the number of school children.

LYRIC SHOWS THE GAME AS PLAYED

Many local fans are enjoying the World's Series by watching the electric score board at the Lyric Theatre. Owing to inexperience on the part of the operator and on account of some wire trouble the returns were not as prompt the first two days as they should have been. However, this trouble has been eliminated and the game is being played upon the board just the same as it happened at the Redland Field of Comiskey Park. An admission fee of 25 cents is charged, and fans are permitted to smoke in the theatre during the game.

CUT THIS OUT—IT IS WORTH MONEY.

DON'T MISS THIS. Cut out this slip and send it to Foley & Co., 2835 Sheffield Ave., Chicago, Ill., writing your name and address clearly. You will receive in return a trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup. Foley Kidney Pills and Cathartic Tablets. R. F. Volkamp, tu-thu-sat.

Property in Lima

A report at the city clerk's office of the building permits for the month of September shows that a total issue of $129,830 was made during the month. The two largest permits were for $10,000 each, one going to Rowlands Brothers for their garage on west North Street, and the other to the Lima Motor Car Company.

The permits for the month of August totalled considerably more than for September as a building permit for $100,000 was issued to the builders of the new hotel which is being erected at the corner of High and Elizabeth Streets. Many of the permits taken out last month were for work which has already started.

Plan Auditorium

Frank Harman, one of the directors of Lima's proposed new auditorium has announced that they plan to start work on the building early the coming spring. The building will occupy a site 200 feet square at the intersection of Elizabeth Street and Ottawa river and it will therefore be made accessible to the residents of the south side by the new South Elizabeth street bridge that is now under construction.

The complete auditorium will be sufficiently large to accommodate large convention crowds and will be used for public gatherings and entertainments of all kinds.

Harry Gayer of Ft. Thomas, Ky., has purchased a splendid tract of land covering more than 17 acres in Shawnee township from J. C. Lineman, and where he plans to build a handsome suburban home for himself and family. Mrs. Gayer is at present in Lima with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thompson. The land was purchased at a consideration of about $15,000.

Homes Purchased

M. H. Lanza of West Wayne Street has recently purchased the Dr. Van Note property at the corner of Jameson and High streets for his new home, and will take immediate possession. The consideration was given as $20,000. E. L. Kirk purchased the property from Dr. Van Note several weeks ago and resold it to Mr. Lanza.

Henry A. Muck has purchased the residence of B. A. Siferd on West High Street opposite Central High school for a reported consideration of $12,000. The property formerly belonged to Jacob Kissel. The purchase was made as an investment, according to Mr. Muck.

Mrs. Rose T. O'Connor formerly of Tulsa, Okla. has purchased the property of Hugh T. Pollock, West High Street for a consideration of $15,000. The house which was recently built by Mr. Pollock for a home for himself and family is one of the most modern in the city being a rockbound stucco. Mrs. O'Connor and children have already taken possession.

CITY BUYS STRIP OF LAND ON RIVER

The city of Lima, today purchased the strip of land on the south side of Ottawa River and east of Main street from George and Charles W. Kah, for a consideration of $150. This land will be cut away on the river improvements.

When the river contractor reached this stretch of land and started to cut it away the Kahs secured a temporary injunction restraining the contractor from taking any more of the earth and then filed suit against the city.

The matter hung fire, and during this time the contractor has been unable to proceed with the improvements. Finally an agreement was reached to proceed with the improvements. Finally an agreement was reached and the land purchased. The improvements will now proceed and will be completed within the next few days, it is understood.
